PORTFOLIO

Introducing
MARCIA BRISSETT

Marcia Brissett-Bailey

BSc, PG Dip (QCG), MA, IPSEA

WHO IS MARCIA BRISSETT-BAILEY?

Marcia Brissett-Bailey is one of the Top 50 Influential Neurodivergent Women 2022. Marcia was nominated for the Stereotype Buster of the year category in 2021/22 Celebrating Neurodiversity Awards.

Marcia is a thought leader, Forbes featured, international speaker, and author of Black, Brilliant and Dyslexic which is due to be published on 21 February 2023. As a dyslexia advocate and champion, Marcia is passionate about empowering other dyslexic and neurodivergent people to find their voice.

Marcia is married and has two children and over the years, has felt the need to 'hack the system', to develop mechanisms to navigate the education system and the workplace. She has learned to accept herself and realise that we are all different, in spite of the illusion that we are all the same shape size and that there exists a dominate group within the human race.

Marcia is keen to empower others to find their voice, working from a place of acceptance and self-love, which Marcia herself has had to invest in, in order to achieve, as she was always told what she cannot do, rather than what she can.

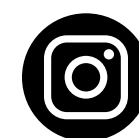

WHO IS MARCIA BRISSETT-BAILEY?

Achieving a BSc (Hons) degree in Information Science with Librarian status, a postgraduate qualification in Career Guidance, Certificate in person-centred Counselling Skills, a diploma in Specialist Teaching, and an MA in Special Educational Needs and Disabilities, Marcia has worked in the education community sector for the last 30 years, providing information, advice, and guidance in higher education and post-16, as well as being a SEND lead.

Level 3 IPSEA trained supporting and empowering parents and young people with special education needs.

As a qualified Careers Advisor, Marcia has a particular focus on personal development, helping young people to achieve their full potential and aspirations by setting personal goals, fuelled by a passion to work with young people with dyslexic and neurodiverse needs (SEND) in preparing for adulthood and transition to secondary, college, University, workplace or self-employment.
